

Confer on Talks For A Truce

Resumption is Probable After Being Stalled Since Sunday

TOKYO, Aug. 6—(AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and four allied cease-fire delegates conferred in Tokyo tonight on stalled truce talks at Kaesong.

Out of that conference may come a message to the Reds which will lead to resumption of negotiations.

A Ridgway aide said the supreme commander was preparing such a message. It will reply to the Red apology for the presence of armed Chinese soldiers near the U. N. staff house in Kaesong Saturday.

The supreme commander called off the talks Sunday morning. He charged the Reds with "flagrant violation" of Kaesong's neutrality. Late Monday afternoon Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior U. N. delegate, and three other Allied negotiators flew to Tokyo from Korea.

They immediately went into conference with Ridgway at his headquarters.

The conference ended several hours later when Ridgway returned to his home.

In breaking off the talks Sunday morning, Ridgway demanded assurances that Armed Red troops would not again violate Kaesong's neutrality.

About 150 Chinese soldiers marched within a few hundred yards of the U. N. staff house during the luncheon recess Saturday. They carried rifles, machine guns and hand grenades.

Claim It "Accident"

The Reds apologized over Peking radio Monday, and asked that talks be resumed immediately. They said it was an "accident," and that steps were being taken to insure the incident wouldn't be repeated.

They also replied directly to Ridgway, but the text of that message was not disclosed.

If the talks resume Tuesday, the Reds and Allies will again come to grips on the problem of a cease-fire buffer zone.

The Reds want it along the 38th parallel, pre-war political border between north and south Korea. The U. N. wants it "in effect the line now generally held by the U. N. forces," much of which is in North Korea.

Demand Outlined

Ridgway's headquarters outlined the Allied demand Monday in a statement issued "to set at rest speculation."

The statement nullified a press release issued by the Civil Information and Education Division of Supreme Allied Headquarters Saturday. The release said the Allies were demanding a buffer zone somewhere between the present battle line and the Yalu river on the Manchurian border.

AP Correspondent Robert B. Tuckman at the advance base said the opinion there was that the Tokyo conference would consider whether the Red reply was acceptable, or whether Ridgway should demand iron-clad guarantees that Kaesong's neutrality would not be violated.

There was some speculation Ridgway may have seized upon the incident to bring to a head the deadlock over where the buffer zone should be established.

Joy himself did not formally protest the troop incident at Saturday's meeting. He merely noted it for the record.

While they appeared anxious that the talks be resumed, the Reds said the United Nations would suffer if negotiations break down.

Gen. Peng Teh-Huai, commander of Chinese forces in Korea, said in an article in Moscow's Pravda that if the talks fail China will throw artillery and air forces of "great size" into the battle.

No Intent by Boyle To Quit, He Declares

Contents He Has Conducted Self 'Honorably'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—(AP)—William M. Boyle, Jr., conferred with President Truman today and said afterward he has no intention of resigning as chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Boyle told reporters "I have always conducted myself honorably."

Boyle's name has been brought into published accounts of a $556,000 government loan to a St. Louis printing firm.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch said the loan was turned down three times but was granted after the firm retained Boyle.

Boyle has denied he had any connection with the loan, but there have been demands in congress for an investigation of it.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) has declared that if Boyle used his influence to get the loan for the firm, then Boyle should be fired or should resign from his party post.

Boyle spent 30 minutes with President Truman, his first call at the White House since the Post-Dispatch published its stories that he received fees from the American Lithofold Corporation, the RFC borrower.

Boyle told reporters he had discussed the matter with Mr. Truman.

As to what he intends to do, Boyle said:

"I was elected by the Democratic party to serve until after the Democratic convention."

"My intention is to serve my full term, which lasts until (Please turn to Page 6, Column 5)

Brannan Talks Flood Control

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 6—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan urged adoption of the Missouri river basin agricultural program today as a first step toward flood control as he addressed the state convention of the Missouri Farmers Association.

Brannan told the farmers that modern agriculture is not to blame for the flood, and went back into history to 1543, when the Desoto expedition encountered similar high water to prove his point.

Bomber With Nine Crashes

SEATTLE, Aug. 6—(AP)—Navy district headquarters announced the crash today of a navy patrol bomber into Puget Sound with nine men aboard. All were believed lost.

The crash occurred near Smith island, about a mile north of Whidbey island in the northern part of Puget Sound.

Roll Off Safe With $2,500 In Cash

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 6—(AP)—Thieves early today rolled a 500-pound safe containing $2,500 in cash out of the front door of a restaurant a block from a police station here.

Police said the intruders broke in from the front door and pushed the safe out the same way. The safe was on rollers, which helped.

Norman's Grill said the safe contained, in addition to the cash, $500 in checks.

Chandler is Witness at Ball Inquiry

Changes in Rules Suggested in His Testimony

By Harry P. Snyder
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—(AP)—A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who left the Senate to become baseball's high commissioner, came back to Capitol Hill today and opined: "A man would have to be stupid" to take the job under present rules.

Testifying at the House inquiry into baseball, Chandler said that first of all he didn't like the rule requiring the commissioner to get votes of 12 of the 16 major league club to hold his $65,000 a year job. It should be a majority vote, he said.

It was this rule which proved to be too big a hurdle for Chandler when he demanded a new contract and failed last March to get the needed backing from 12 clubs. As a result, Chandler is out and the baseball owners will meet tomorrow to elect a new commissioner.

Chandler, ruddy-faced and happy-looking as ever, was in the witness chair of a House Judiciary subcommittee that is looking into baseball's relation to anti-trust laws.

Changes Suggested

He said the selection rule as to the commissioner is one of the three changes that should be made in baseball's rules.

The others:

1. The commissioner should be given complete authority to throw any rule adopted by the owners.
2. The commissioner should have the right to fire, as well as hire, baseball's secretary treasurer.

"I wouldn't take it (the commissioner) again unless those changes were made," he said, adding:

"That's advice for some other fellow."

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) observed that even under present rules there seemed to be a plentiful supply of candidates for the commissionership.

Shaking his head, Chandler said with a broad smile:

"Forgive them, Father, for they know not what they do."

Rescue Four From Mountain

JUNEAU, Alaska, Aug. 6—(AP)—An Air Force C-47 rescued four persons from the icy slopes of Mt. Hubbard Saturday after they had been marooned by the disappearance of their own plane with three aboard.

All were members of an Arctic Institute ice studies expedition.

The four reported rescued were Walter D. Wood and his 20-year-old son, Peter, of Fair Hills, N. J.; Robert Bates, believed to be from Boston, and Nicholas Clifford.

Bloody Battle In Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia, Aug. 6—(AP)—A band of 15 carrying the Communist-sponsored Picasso Peace Dove and armed with machine guns and hand grenades today in the port city of Tandjong Priok, 10 miles from here.

Eleven persons were reported killed—five of them members of the army and police and six of them Reds. At least 30 of the attackers were arrested and at least 15 bystanders were believed to have been injured.

Sedalia Water Is Still Pure

The smell is bad—but the important thing is that Sedalia's water is pure. Complaints received that the water had a musty smell the past few days resulted in a check and results show the water is pure and users need not worry.

Sunday night, extra doses of chlorine were used in the water when the odor was noticed and this is being done to clear up the smell. It is anticipated that the smell will have been neutralized within the next twenty-four hours, if not much sooner.

The recent high waters brought such a condition, but it is not such as to create any apprehension.

Open Meeting on Redistricting

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 6—(AP)—Four of Missouri's congressmen came to meetings here today that could mean their political life or death.

They attended sessions of the House and Senate congressional redistricting committees. The Missouri legislature must—before the end of 1951—set up 11 congressional districts to replace the present 13. Otherwise, all congressional candidates from Missouri will have to run at large in 1952.

The number of districts must be decreased because Missouri's population did not keep pace with some of its faster growing sister states in the 1950 census.

Grocery Order $9,000 a Day

CAMP RIPLEY, Minn., Aug. 6—(AP)—The 35th division quartermaster company of Marshall, Mo., is handling a $9,000 daily grocery order for the division in summer field exercises here.

The quartermaster company issues 45,000 pounds of food for daily distribution throughout the camp area. This figures 5,403 pounds for each individual soldier's ration for one day.

By Sam Dawson
NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—The idea of training teen-agers to be businessmen is spreading, through the nation.

Business firms in 20 states are behind the movement, known as Junior Achievement companies. Their success is a pleasant other side of the teen-age story—an antidote to the recent accounts of narcotic addiction in the high schools, of moral laxity among college athletes.

Under the junior achievement plan youngsters from 16 to 20 years of age form their own companies, sell stock in them,

Have Good Blood Bank Setup

"This is a wonderful set-up," said Dr. J. W. Parker of Kansas City, in charge of the Blood Bank Mobile, as he viewed the arrangement of cots in one room and tables and chairs both on the first floor and in the basement of the Elks Club. He was very pleased over the number and the efficiency of the Red Cross workers, who were there to help in various ways.

The blood plasma of World War II has just about been used up, said Dr. Parker, and it is very necessary to have more. It is the blood plasma that is bringing many of the boys back home alive. Even though the Korean war may soon be over, said Dr. Parker, there is still a need in case there should be a flare-up somewhere else.

Sedalia is falling short of its quota and it is very urgent that there be more donors Tuesday. Anyone who will give blood is asked to call the Red Cross and make an appointment.

Flood Control A Vital Need

President Says Emergency Relief Insufficient

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—(AP)—President Truman said today the Midwest must elect more "forward-looking, liberal-minded members of Congress" to assure creation of a Missouri valley authority to control floods.

Mr. Truman expressed this view in a letter to CIO President Philip Murray. It was in response to one in which Murray asked him to set up immediately an emergency commission to draw up a river management program for the Missouri valley.

The White House made public the president's letter. Murray had previously released his own.

Mr. Truman declared that three key flood control dams proposed for the Kansas river and its tributaries have not been started, "all because of opposition by the officials and congressional representatives of the state of Kansas."

And, the president said, he agrees with Murray that the emergency relief now under way as the result of record floods in the Midwest is no substitute for the real job that needs to be done.

"You know there are a lot of people who take little interest in flood control until a disastrous flood occurs," the president's letter said.

Refers To Budget Cut

"I am sorry to say that a majority in Congress has cut my budget requests for flood control each of the last four years, and just a few weeks ago the House Representatives cut this year's budget requests by nearly 20 per cent."

"We can spend little enough on flood control in emergency times like these, and I have had to hold (Please turn to Page 4, Column 5)

Kem to Tour Flooded Area

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 6—(AP)—Senator James P. Kem will return to Missouri August 13 for a five-day tour of a part of the flood-stricken area.

Under the auspices of the Citizens Committee for Reports from Kem and with the assistance of the Missouri Farm Bureau, Senator Kem will meet with farm groups in St. Charles, Franklin, Saline, Carroll, Lafayette, and Cooper counties.

Kem, with a group of mid-western senators, visited the inundated areas in late July. He feels, however, that only by meeting with the people directly affected by the flood, can their needs and desires be correctly ascertained.

Senator Kem will be accompanied by his wife throughout the trip. His schedule is as follows:

Monday, August 13—St. Charles (Courtthouse) (8:30 p. m.)

Wednesday, August 15—Berger (9:30 a. m.)

Wednesday, August 15—Labadie (2:30 p. m.)

Thursday, August 16—Marshall (10:00 a. m.) Lexington (2:00 p. m.) Carrollton (8:00 p. m.)

Friday, August 17—Boonville (2:30 p. m.) (Courtthouse)

Friday, August 17—Boonville (8:00 p. m.) (Rod and Gun club.)

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Kelley.

White House Bricks to Scouts

BAD ISCHL, Austria, Aug. 6—(AP)—Bricks from the White House were on their way as a symbol of American friendship to boy scout homes in all corners of the earth. The bricks, removed in the renovation of the presidential residence, were distributed by American scouts to representatives of free nations attending the seventh world boy scout jamboree here.

Ban Doesn't Apply To G. I. Edson

WITH THE U. S. TENTH CORPS, Korea, Aug. 6—(AP)—The Tenth Corps troop information and education office finds it impossible to abide by the new army ban on use of "G. I." to describe one soldier.

The reason is a draftee newly assigned to the staff—Pvt. G. I. Edson, 22, of Bethany, Mo.

Military Budget Of $56,062,405,890 Is Awarded Approval

Veto From Truman on Pension Bill

Aid Would be Only to Non-Service Connected Cases

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—(AP)—President Truman today vetoed legislation to increase the pensions of thousands of war veterans who are disabled for reasons not connected with their military service. The measure would have boosted some pensions from $60 and $72 to $120 a month.

In a message to the House, Mr. Truman emphasized that the bill was of aid only to veterans who have pensions for non-service connected disability.

It would not affect compensation for veterans disabled as a result of military service, he said, and added:

"Enactment of the bill would cost the government, in the first year of operation, approximately $1,700,000. This, however, is not the full story. As the veterans of the two world wars and the present conflict advance in age through the years, the cost would increase very substantially."

Mr. Truman's action kills the bill unless Congress should enact it over his veto. This would require a two-thirds vote by both the House and the Senate.

Rejects Boost on Oil Royalties

BAGHDAD, Iraq, Aug. 6—(AP)—A dispatch from Basrah said today the Prince of the Kuwait Shiekhdom has rejected a new offer of the Anglo-American-owned Kuwait oil company to boost his oil royalties. He is reported demanding overall revision of his oil agreements.

The offer of the company was to pay the royalties from four and a half shillings to 25 shillings (63 cents to $3.50) a ton. The ruler of the Persian Gulf state, an independent government under British protection, was said to be eyeing the actions of Iran and Iraq with a view of greatly increasing his income from oil.

Uncertain as to Commissioner

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—It is uncertain that baseball will elect a new commissioner tomorrow, but one thing is certain—if and when he is elected he will face the biggest problem ever confronted by a baseball czar.

The man who succeeds A. B. Chandler must among other things:

1—Represent baseball in the Congressional investigation of the game now under way in Washington.

2—Decide what, if anything, can be done about the reserve clause, already under legal attack.

3—Attempt to work out a television and radio policy that will satisfy the minor leagues where attendance has fallen sharply.

4—Deal with the problem raised strongly in the Washington hearings of making the Pacific Coast league a third major league.

Welch May Bid For Governor

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6—Rep. Phil J. Welch, a Democrat of St. Joseph, says he is seriously considering making a bid for the Missouri governorship next year.

Welch, now serving his second term in Congress, said he was encouraged after talking over his chances with Democratic leaders in St. Louis.

Mrs. Petsel Held In Slaying Case

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 6—(AP)—Mrs. Cora Petsel, 28, was held today for trial on a charge of first degree murder in the drowning death of her daughter, Louise Dawn Petsel, 4, at the farm home here July 9.

Mrs. Petsel confessed last Wednesday that she drowned the child. A coroner's jury, concluding a delayed investigation of the death, returned a verdict of homicide the next day after hearing testimony of the physician called at the time of the death, autopsy, and Deputy Sheriff Wedemeier, to whom Mrs. Petsel confessed.

Today, in a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Temple Morgett, Mrs. Petsel gained a delay of several hours because she changed from an attorney selected by her mother to one selected by her husband.

When her new attorney, Don Carter of Sturgeon, was ready to proceed with the case this afternoon, the prosecution offered transcripts of the inquest testimony of the two physicians and of Mrs. Petsel's confession statement which was read by Wedemeier.

Morgett ruled she should be held without bond for trial in the Boone county circuit court.

Disease Kills 4,000,000 Elms

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6—(AP)—The dread Dutch Elm disease and Oak Wilt, for which there is no known cure, have been detected in the St. Louis area.

The Dutch Elm disease was reported in Illinois for the first time last year and had never before been found in Missouri.

Will Look Into The Cases of Ninety Cadets

Senate Group to Check Claims on Cribbing by Them

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—(AP)—A Senate committee decided today to look into the cases of ninety West Point Cadets accused of cribbing on examinations.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Aug. 6—(AP)—Earl (Red) Blaik, head football coach at the U. S. Military Academy, said today he would welcome a congressional investigation of the recent cadet dismissals "so that the true character of the boys and true relationship of football to life at the academy can be brought before the country."

WEST POINT, N. Y., Aug. 6—(AP)—Mothers and fathers of cadets facing dismissal from the U. S. military academy for violating the school's honor code said today they would appeal to Congress for support of the youths' position.

Some of the parents held an informal meeting here last night to plan ways to arouse nationwide backing for the youths. They said they hoped congressmen would write and wire congressmen to see that the cadets are given a fair deal.

Meanwhile, head football coach Earl (Red) Blaik said he may have a statement some time during the afternoon outlining his position.

There have been unconfirmed reports that Blaik may resign his job since the bulk of the army football team is reported affected by the dismissal move.

Several cadets said academy officials threatened them with loss of citizenship, perjury citations and prison terms before they admitted "cribbing" on examinations.

How it Divided
Here's how the money would be allotted, by service:

Army: $20,125,574, 665, a cut of $685,321,500 from what it wanted.

Navy: $15,552,143,225, a cut of $194,272,000.

Air Force: $19,854,128,000 a cut of $647,015,000.

National Security Council: $160,000, no cut.

National Security Resources Board: $1,600,000, no cut.

Secretary of Defense: $528,800,000, a cut of $16,000,000; out of this comes retirement pay of $345,000,000.

Deep cuts were made in funds requested for civilian personnel and military procurement. The aggregate $145,130,500 chopped off civilian personnel funds is designed to cut planned white-collar and blue-collar working forces by close to $80,000. This still would leave the military forces tens of thousands more civilian employees than they had during the first year.

The committee said procurement funds cuts would not interfere with the military build-up but were made because of changes in production schedules and material deliveries.

The committee's criticism was not reserved for the defense department alone. It noted that the President didn't submit the budget until late in April, more than three months later than the legally-prescribed time, and said it wants the budget sent to Congress "on time" hereafter. That is during the first 15 days of the session.

The group also complained of "inadequate" detailed justifications (Please turn to Page 4, Column 2)

To Strengthen Gambling Squad

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6—(AP)—Newly appointed police board president Maurice G. Roberts said today he will recommend proposals to strengthen the police gambling squad.

The squad is headed by Capt. Joseph A. Wren, who has been credited as the man most responsible for keeping organized gambling out of the city.

Europe Feels No War Danger

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—(AP)—James A. Farley said today there is "a very general feeling in Europe now that there is no danger of war."

"I think they are being realistic about it," he said.

The EMERALD CRESTED HOOPOE

by Gordon MacCreagh

ALAN BARTON had not thought he would stay in Saigon. He was on his way home from Singapore from where he had just shipped several tons of wild animals on the hoof. These had been trouble enough. Here Alan didn't like these barbed wire entanglements in the streets, still on the alert against another night raid of Ai-Quoks, slinking more murderously than the leopards he had shipped.

Alan was burned teak brown, he was sweating and lean. He was tired and he wanted home. If there had to be murder, Alan thought, it ought to be as decent, as least, as leopards did it.

Everybody in the world, it seemed, knew that Indo-China was the next booby trap that would spring southeast Asia open to the Communists. They were waiting for it, all these underfed, animal-housed millions.

But, Alan wasn't going to wait for it. It was just that his Messageries Maritimes steamer had tied up at Quai Quatrieme and so he was taking a ricksha to pop in and surprise his old friend Jimmy Draper, who was American Consul.

His ricksha dropped him off in the Rue Tabard opposite to the six block-square walled in park of the governor's palace. Jimmy Draper pumped his hand and called him you old horse thief and how's the fat and lazy business of ketchemalive. And Alan called Jimmy you old bum and how's the back-breaking business of consulting an American business that isn't any more.

"Bad," said Jimmy, and he was quickly serious. "Only four Americans here and one of them killed off this very morning." He clawed the air in impotent irritation. "Some coolies fished him out of the Arroyo Chinoise and because he was American they brought him here. Knifed about two days ago. Looks too neat for a knife fight. You know about these things."

"Not about your Annamese; though they may be the same as Malay. But I'll look at him."

THE body lay on a string cot, gruesomely as the Consul had described it. Alan's nose wrinkled as he studied the exactly horizontal gash. He said only, "How did the coolies know he was American?"

The consul looked startled. "I hadn't thought of that."

"This isn't just somebody's peeve. Looks to me more like a Chinese hai-hueh, done slow to make him talk, and he wouldn't. What d'you know about him?"

"Nothing. He didn't bother to report in at this office. But I've got his gear and there's a scribbled sort of diary. Come, I'll show you."

In his office the Consul shook off the unpleasant sight of the veranda. "Here, you ought to be able to tell me, you being a half-baked sort of a scientist. What's a deadly upupa?"

"You're thinking," Alan told him loftily, "of your eighth grade reader. It doesn't exist." Both men joked banally to shake off the impact of death.

"But," said Jimmy, "it's here in the guy's diary. Upupa epops smaragdensis, and he says it's a deadly bird."

"That doesn't exist either," Alan said. "It's extinct. It's the emerald crested hoopoe."

The wheels locked at top ricksha speed . . . then there was Alan's white suit in the rainy season mire.

"What's a hoopoe?"

"I should have said, fourth grade," said Alan. "It's Minerva's bird. She was hot and the hoopoe spread its wings over her to make shade, so she gave it the crested crown and made it sacred. The hoopoe winters around the Mediterranean and nests around the southeastern migratory flight lanes. Meaning here, it had sacred legends amongst the old Hindu cultures, too. If it hooped at the right time it meant good luck, at the wrong time it meant a king would die. There're three or four species but the emerald crest hasn't been reported in a hundred years. It's extinct."

"All that is a whole heap to know for sure," Jimmy said. "So let me tell you some more. This guy says—here look—Upupa epops smaragdensis is to be found in Ual Prah Keo. That's the jungle district around Pnom Penh."

"The devil he says! That could be a scientific find!"

"The man seems to have been there quite recently."

"Whee-ee! Is he reliable? I mean, does he know what he's talking about?"

"I don't know any more than his name, Norman D. Willis; and his diary says, 'but this bird had better be left in peace, for it is deadly.'"

"Boloney! A hoopoe is the size of a thrush and it eats insects and fruits."

"So now the man found it and he's dead." The Consul's look was worried.

Alan's elbow touched his side. "D'you know you're being watched?"

THE Consul peered trying various angles. "I haven't your jungle eyes. Don't see him."

Alan made a quick stride to the wall, took the Consul's rifle off its rack, flung open the casement and aimed at the banyan trees.

A patch of green silk headdress that looked like a leaf cluster ducked out of sight. Branches hurriedly rustled.

"You wouldn't—" the Consul caught at Alan's arm.

Alan grinned at him. "No. But that ape didn't know. So that adds up to this guy had some info that was worth killing him for. I wish you luck in your soft job, Jimmy!"

The Consul walked his floor kicking dusty little splinters from his matting. "Look, Alan. Birds aren't so far out of your line. I wish you'd take a run up there and snoop around under cover as a collector. You could collect some extinct whatsis and teach 'em to hoop at the right time for luck or whatever. Peddle 'em right here to the government staff that sure needs it. Boy, you'd make a killing."

Both men grimaced at the inadvertent allusion. Alan tried to laugh it off. "You don't make killing attractive enough. This guy finds a bird and makes a crack it's deadly. Now he's dead. I don't get government insurance and pensions for sticking my neck into murders."

RICKSHA riding between rain showers to the steamer dock. Alan shut his eyes against the sun glare and the whole depressing scene. Therefore, he didn't see the accident until he was in it.

Ricksha coolies in all the world where there are rickshas have been careless of traffic rules. But here there was a conflict of ideologies. A "Smiler" adherent, a Ho-Chi, and a "Guardian," a Bao, each thought maliciously to scratch a little paint off the other's vehicle. So wheels locked at top ricksha speed—15 miles in the sprints—and one spidery wheel came off. Then there was Alan's white suit in the rainy season mire and on top of him some sort of a woman's white dress, and arms and legs and much yelling. Alan shoved the woman off his face and lifted her out of the splinters.

"Why didn't you 'toy' your fool?" she said in English. As Alan gaped, she snapped: "I mean stop your coolie when you saw he was deliberately heading for us?"

Alan grinned at her with dawning appreciation. She wasn't a woman, he made a distinction—she was a girl. She had a smear of dirt over her one eye and the other was blue and there were freckles on a short nose and she was very mad.

The TELEPHONE Ties It All Together

WHAT THE TELEPHONE COMPANY MEANS TO SEDALIA
EMPLOYER—140 employees, payroll $400,000.
TAXPAYER—Local taxes, $50,000.
BUYER—Thousands of dollars in annual purchases of supplies and equipment from Sedalia firms.
DIVIDEND PAYER—Nearly 200 persons in the Sedalia area own stock in the telephone business.
Provider of an essential service

Imagine Sedalia without telephones! Picture for yourself how truly indispensable the telephone is—how it ties together the business, industrial and social life of Sedalia.

Since the end of World War II, building and improvements in the City schools, Missouri Pacific Railroad and Pittsburgh-Corning Glass have made the headlines here, to name only a few.

Just as important, but not as widely publicized, has been the vigorous growth of the telephone business—equal to a good-sized new industry for progressive Sedalia. The company has spent over a million dollars since 1945 to improve and expand service in Sedalia, and the number of families with telephone service has jumped from 38% to 70%.

The annual telephone payroll is now $400,000, 4½ times as large as in 1940. Local tax payments ($50,000) have increased eleven-fold since 1940.

Nearly 200 people in Sedalia own stock in the telephone business. They share in the ownership of the telephone business and have a right to expect regular, reasonable dividends on their invested savings.

It is doubtful that any one business has contributed more to Sedalia's growth than the telephone company. It must continue to be an active partner in progress in the years ahead—and to that end, it must be financially sound.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

New Alarm for Yugoslavs

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951. By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6—The reason behind the alarming warnings made by Secretary Marshall and the army secretary, Frank Pace, is the latest intelligence from the Balkans. This reports, among other things, that Communist medical units have arrived along the Bulgarian-Yugoslav border.

Medical units do not participate in ordinary troop maneuvers. They are the last to arrive before military action begins.

Maneuvers along the Yugoslav border in themselves may not mean much. They have been going on for months, and when I visited the Bulgarian border last February, I interviewed refugees who had just escaped from behind the iron curtain with news of Russian concentrations in certain areas. Latest U. S. intelligence indicates that this has increased.

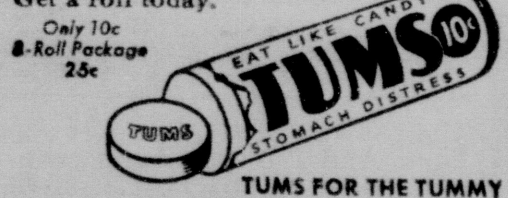

Bulgaria's army of around 200,000 men is now reported equipped with Soviet combat vehicles, heavy artillery, and a new type of fighter plane more powerful than the Yak. The Bulgarian army is under General Atanasov, a Soviet citizen trained in Russia, though of Bulgarian origin. His command post has been moved from Sofia to the field.

All along the Romanian and Bulgarian side of the Yugoslav border, a strip of land has been completely cleared and a Siegfried line of pillboxes built behind it. This could be part of the war of nerves against Tito, or it could mean that the Kremlin is ready to give Tito the business. Late August or September, after the harvest is in, always has been the time when dictators get trigger happy.

Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona, one of the most conscientious and respected members of the Senate has taken a stand regarding the crime committee that puzzles his colleagues.

As chairman of the powerful Senate rules committee, Hayden has flatly refused to authorize more money to be spent on the crime probe. This has caused the crime committee, now under the chairmanship of Herbert O'Connor of Maryland, to withdraw its investigators from New York and other areas. It also means that the committee will have to wind up its work around September.

show, "Border Be Damned," if he wants to understand some of the problems between North and South Ireland. Entirely aside from political implications, the play's a smash hit.

Judge Matt McGuire in United States district court in Washington, slapped out an oral opinion "Denied," in dismissing a petition by a coal digger to examine the books of the United Mine Workers welfare fund.

George Livengood of Uniontown, Pa., was fired out of the union by John L. Lewis when he challenged some of the expenditures of the miners' welfare fund, asserting that the miners who earn the money for the fund have a right to see how the money is spent. Not even Ezra Van Horn, the mine owners' representative on the miners' welfare fund, was permitted to see the books.

Washington observers are wondering whether the White House is going to follow the excellent precedent set by the secretary of the army, Frank Pace, regarding gratuities.

Secretary Pace relieved Brig. Gen. David J. Crawford when he found that Crawford had an overnight hotel suite paid for by

Chiefs Drop Loop Contest To Columbia

Don Poore and his Columbia McKays teammates eliminated all hopes of the Sedalia Chiefs making a clean sweep of the second half pennant race in the Central Missouri Ban Johnson league's southern division, defeating the Sedalians Sunday night at Columbia, 7-5.

With two out in the ninth the Chiefs threatened to rally, loading the bases on walks to Morgan and Imhauser and a single by John Cochran, but this hope was snuffed out by Poore, who forced Don Broadus to fly to left for the final out.

Joe Imhauser went the route for the locals. He allowed the winners seven hits, walked one and fanned 12. Poore was touched for eight hits. He walked six and struck out five. Columbia made five errors, while the Sedalians committed two miscues.

Two Errors Help McKays

Helped by two Columbia errors the Chiefs grabbed a two run advantage in the first inning. Broadus walked, then stole second. Waters fanned. Hawley's ground ball went between the first and second baseman into right field for a single, Broadus scoring. Holst bounced to short, Hawley moving to second on the play at first. Brown then rolled to John Willingham. Imhauser, who hit and booted the ball, enabling Hawley to score the second run.

Columbia took away the two-run advantage in the last half of the first inning, with a three run surge on only one hit. Webb singled to center. McQuiddy bounced to Waters, who made a wild throw to first, enabling both runners to advance. Willingham bounced to Morgan and all runners were safe when the throw to the plate was late, Webb scoring and McQuiddy moving to third. Willingham and McQuiddy then executed a perfect double steal, McQuiddy scoring the second run. Hafner flied to deep center, Willingham holding second. Hofer fanned. Jones walked. Willingham stole third. Jones and Willingham then teamed up and executed the second double steal of the inning, Willingham scoring. Beizer fanned to end the three-run frame.

The teams were scoreless until the fifth when the Sedalians tied the score on three Columbia errors, Waters counting the tally.

Climbing Runs in the Sixth

Three runs in the sixth and one in the seventh clinched the contest for the McKays. Three hits and an error accounted for the sixth inning scoring and two singles and a stolen base gave the winners their tally in the seventh.

Sedalia made a vain attempt to regain the lead in the eighth with a double and two singles, good for two runs. Imhauser clouted a double and Broadus and Waters hit singles.

In the ninth John Cochran hit a sharp grounder past the third baseman, but the umpire called the ball four and a heated argument followed.

Many Chief Base Runners

The Chiefs had men on base in every inning but the seventh. Ralph Waters and Imhauser led the Chiefs' attack with two hits apiece, while Webb and Willingham each hit twice for the McKays.

Wednesday night the Chiefs will play two of their three remaining games at Liberty park against the Mexico Miners. The other game, against Columbia, is also at Liberty park.

Tuesday night Columbia will visit Boonville for another important league twin bill.

Tam O'Shanter To Middlecoff

By Charles Chamberlain

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Cary Middlecoff, hitting one of the hottest stretches of golf in his career, started off top swag in the first phase of Tam O'Shanter's golf rush and now aims for $12,500 in the "world" meet—the game's richest proff.

The 30-year-old Memphis star, who forsook the practice of dentistry to carve a place on the tournament circuit, won Tam's All-American top prize of $2,250 yesterday in a man-to-man battle with Fred Hawkins, 27-year-old pro from El Paso, Tex.

He and the nation's 64 other prime pros enter the "world championship" Thursday.

Middlecoff finished with a total 274—14 strokes under Tam's par.

Hawkins' second place was worth $1,400.

Third was Ted Kroll, Purple Heart veteran from New Hartford, N. Y., who finished with 70 for 279 and $1,200. Skee Riegel's 280 was worth $1,100 and four shared 282 to get $850 apiece—Jerry Barber, Norman Von Nida, Sydney, Australia, the leading foreign entry, Jimmy Demaret and Ralph Blomquist.

All the big name pros, plus Ben Hogan, who did not compete in the All-American section, will be in the field of 65 for the $50,000 "world" championship running Thursday through Sunday.

The "world" section also goes for men amateurs and the women.

Frank Stranahan is favored to repeat in the simon pure bracket. He took the All-American amateur with 286.

Giants Topple Cardinals by 8 to 4 Score

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two weeks ago you wouldn't have given a nickel for Cleveland's pennant chances. That was when the Indians, opening a vital eastern swing, dropped two straight games to the Yankees and fell 2½ games behind the league-leading New Yorkers.

But today the triumphant Yanksmen rate even money to dethrone the defending champion Yankees.

Cleveland bounced back after the two licks at Yankee stadium and won the final game of the series. The Indians took inspiration from that and went on to take the series in Boston, Washington and Philadelphia.

The Tribe swept the four game series with the Athletics, closing with a pair of 6-3 triumphs yesterday to make it 11 consecutive wins against the A's. They go home with a 10-4 record in the east.

In sharp contrast, the Boston Red Sox divided 14 games to fall into third place, 3½ games behind the Yankees.

Detroit's Tigers put the finishing touches to the Red Sox' sorry home stay by winning a double header in Fenway Park, 3-1 and 8-5. That cost Boston two full games, as the Yankees whipped the St. Louis Browns, 6-2 and 4-3.

Chicago's fourth-place White Sox ended a poor eastern jaunt with a 6-5 victory in Washington. They return to the west with a 5-7 showing that cost them 4½ games to the league leaders.

Trailing by only 2½ games two weeks ago, they now are seven games behind the Yanks.

The Brooklyn Dodgers continue to roll in the National league. They socked the Cincinnati Reds twice, 9-8 and 2-0, to increase their margin over the runnerup New York Giants to 9½ games.

The Giants captured the rubber of their three-game set in St. Louis, 8-4.

Philadelphia's third-place Phils pummeled nine Pittsburgh pitchers for a 5-1 and 12-7 sweep of their twin bill. The Boston Braves whipped the Cubs twice in Chicago, 7-4 and 4-3.

Hal Newhouser Is Out of Game

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Has Hal Newhouser reached the end of his trail?

That's the question being asked around the American league.

Right now Newhouser, once the greatest southpaw pitcher in baseball, has a sore arm. At 30, he can't pitch a lick and Detroit Tigers manager Red Rolfe didn't use him on the eastern trip which closed yesterday.

Newhouser has capsule trouble in his left shoulder. A capsule is a protective membrane.

Newhouser hopes to find out what can be done about his shoulder during the Tigers' home stand which opens today. He'll visit a couple of Detroit specialists.

"I think there's plenty of pitching left in my arm," says Newhouser. "It's just a matter of time. I first hurt the shoulder pitching an exhibition game against the Yankees in St. Petersburg in the spring of 1950. But it came around."

Rolfe misses Hal but he has hopes for his comeback "because Newhouser last spring looked better to me than he had ever looked in my three years as manager."

"I feel terrible about not being able to help the team," says Hal. "I wake up groggy in the morning and hate to sit on the bench in the afternoon. If I could pitch maybe we could get into the first division for some of that world series money."

Kiner Shares Home Run Lead

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Big Ralph Kiner of the last place Pittsburgh Pirates shares home run leadership of the National league today with Brooklyn's Gil Hodges, after smacking three round trippers against the Philadelphia Phillies. Each now has 31 homers.

Kiner's feat put him nine days ahead of his 1949 output of 54 home runs and one day in advance of his 1950 pace when he belted 47. The Alhambra Kid hit No. 31 on Aug. 14 in 1949 and on Aug. 10 in 1950.

Teen Age Blues Score Shutout

The Teen-Age Blues defeated Jamestown Sunday afternoon at Housel Park by a score of 15-0 behind the six-hit pitching of Earl Barnes, who also struck out 12 and walked four.

The Jamestown boys were greatly weakened due to the fact that six of their regular players were attending Radio Appreciation day in St. Louis.

Rimel went all the way for Jamestown, giving up 13 hits.

Extra base hits for the Blues were triples by D. Higgins and Jack Barnes. Don Higgins led the attack with three hits while Bill Watson, Joe Walter and Bruce Wall got two each.

The Blues will practice Wednesday evening at Housel park at 5:30 o'clock.

Ionia Loses to Hermitage Club

The Hermitage baseball team defeated Ionia in a game played on the Hermitage diamond Sunday afternoon. After Ionia started the scoring with three in the fourth, Hermitage came back with seven in their half and made it stand up to win the game.

Brown collected three for five to lead the Ionia hitters.

Swisher, the Ionia pitcher, hit a long homer in the eighth frame over the right field fence for Ionia's final tally.

Sports Roundup

By Joe Falls
(For Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The hardest job in the world?—If you go by baseball standards, managing a big league team rates as just about the toughest task.

Consider all the recent changes. . . There have been no fewer than seven shakeups since the close of last season, the new pilots being Paul Richards, Jimmy Dykes, Al Lopez, Charlie Dressen, Tommy Holmes, Phil Cavarretta and Marty Marion. . . And Billy Meyer of the Pirates and Zach Taylor of the Browns are almost sure to go when the current season ends. . . The reason for all this? The only one we can think of is that baseball, in general, is not up to pre-war standards and, consequently, heads must roll—the manager's heads!

The Percentage Book

Next time you go to a baseball game with your friend, bet him (a friendly wager, of course) that the count is three-and-two on the batter, he'll hit a foul ball on the next pitch. . . You'll be surprised how many times you'll win.

Hoss (Non) Sense

Gulfstream Park in Florida has proved itself a hunch player's paradise. . . Several years ago Irish Sun won the St. Patrick's Day purse and Black Pepper captured the Senator Claude Pepper handicap. . . Then Santa Claus won the Santa Claus handicap—on you guessed it—Christmas day.

Overdue

The modern Olympic games started in 1896, and down through the years Americans have won just about every event on the track program—except the javelin. . . This usually went to the Scandinavians or Germans. . . But next summer in Helsinki, Uncle Sam may have his first javelin winner in Bud Held, former Stanford star. . . Last week in Stockholm he threw the spear 249 feet 8½ inches, the best ever by an American and just eight feet short of the world record.

Plebes Likely To Get on the Team of Army

By Orlo Robertson

WEST POINT, N. Y., Aug. 6.—(AP)—The question of whether Col. Earl (Red) Blaik will resign as army's head football coach was tossed about in sports circles today as the result of the order dismissing 90 cadets—many of them his top gridiron stars—for cheating in examinations.

The army steadfastly has refused to name names. But well founded reports said 40 or more football players were among the 90 involved in the scandal that rocked the United States military academy.

However, two of the players who figured prominently in Col. Blaik's plans for another great army team have said they are among the cadets ordered dismissed.

Three others have disclosed through their parents that they were not connected with the violation of the academy's sacrosanct honor code.

But, if reports are true, Blaik's varsity squad has been ripped asunder. Graduation last spring took 10 of the team that rolled through 28 straight victories before losing to navy 14-2 last fall. And now the dismissal order, taking players that figured to again make the Black Knights the feared power of the gridiron.

Teenettes Defeat Town and Country

The Sacred Heart Teenettes beat the Town and Country softball team last night at Center park with a score of 13-3.

Josephine White was the outstanding player for the Teenettes when she knocked a homer with the bases loaded. Ida Hughes pitched for the Teenettes and Shirley was on the mound for Town and Country.

The manager was fuming when Mino came back to the bench, and stormed: "I thought I told you to take that pitch!"

Business firms backing the movement, according to the National Industrial Conference board aim "to give American boys and girls a positive education in owning, managing and operating their own businesses so they can learn at first hand the functions of capital, management and labor."

How They Operate

Here is how junior achievement companies operate:

Each has a business firm sponsor that furnishes three advisors, one each from the accountancy, production and sales departments.

Membership is limited to 15, and there is no featherbedding. Each one has to work. They start by floating a stock issue. Each youngster must buy one 50-cent share and can buy up to five. Then they must sell the rest around their town. They rent a "business center," usually in a school clubhouse, or some business plant.

Junior workers meet one evening each week for two hours. At each meeting they first tackle their problems; wage increases, stepping up or cutting back production schedules, sales volume and administering personnel.

During the sometimes troublesome problem of absenteeism. Then they start working on the product they've chosen to make and sell.

No Intent by Boyle to Quit, He Declares

The convention in July, 1952."

Byrd and Boyle got out week-end statements on the matter.

Byrd announced he was drafting a bill to bar any officer or employee of a national political committee from appearing before or attempting to influence the decisions of any federal agency.

Boyle's statement was a denial that he helped American Litho-fold get the RFC loan. He said: "I had nothing to do with the preparation of the application. I never discussed the loan with anyone in the RFC. In short I had nothing to do with the granting of the loan."

Met by reporters as he left the President's office, Boyle said he discussed several things with the President including the charges against him.

He added that his week-end statement covered the situation completely.

Reminded that Mr. Truman has twice told news conferences he was looking into the Post-Dispatch charges, Boyle was asked the President's reaction to his statement.

"I never speak for the President," he said. But he added, "I've always conducted myself so as never to embarrass my family or the President. I've always conducted myself honorably."

He was then asked if he had any intention of resigning, and he said emphatically he did not.

Boyle also was asked about a Post-Dispatch story of Saturday that he played an important role in an attempt to gain control of a government-owned nickel plant in Cuba. The newspaper said those associated with Boyle in this were James P. Finnegan, then revenue collector for St. Louis; Rex Jacobs, Detroit manufacturer and E. Merl Young of Washington.

The Post-Dispatch said the deal fell through when they were unable to interest Shields and company, a Chicago brokerage firm, in investing $1,000,000 in the project.

Boyle said he had known from reading the newspapers about the interests of Finnegan and Jacobs in the Cuban matter. But he said he never participated in the

Revoke Franchise Of Jeff City Team

MOBERLY, Mo., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Central Missouri Ban Johnson league officials revoked the franchise of Jefferson City in the loop's southern division, at a meeting here yesterday.

V. W. Meinert, league president, said the club's five remaining games have been declared forfeited.

Meinert said Jefferson City club directors had failed to submit player contracts and to fulfill other league obligations.

In other action, the league reinstated Dick Tooley, Brookfield pitcher and Jack Patchett, Chillicothe, outfielder. They were suspended a week ago for alleged professionalism.

Vecek Favors Players' Voice

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Bill Vecek, St. Louis Browns owner, will be surprised if a new baseball commissioner is named at the major leagues' joint session at New York tomorrow.

"There'll just be subtraction of a few generals and admirals and politicians from the long list of possibilities," he predicted in a radio interview last night.

Vecek added as a minor league club owner he can understand why the minors should have a voice in the selection of a commissioner. He said the players, too, should have a voice "but they

Feeding Floor Be Constructed

Demonstration at The Romig Farm Be on August 8

A demonstration showing how to construct a concrete feeding floor will be held at the Charles Romig farm 1 1/2 miles east of Dresden Wednesday afternoon August 8th. Herman Hall Extension Agricultural Engineer and Fred Verick of the Portland Cement Association, will assist.

Concrete feeding floors are one of the most essential farm improvements. Such floors help to produce more pork and beef and save feed from being lost in the mud. Cattle and hog men figure that a concrete feeding floor or paved barnyard is paid for during the first year of use by faster and cheaper stock gains, increased value of manure and saving of bedding.

Size of floor to build. Livestock feeders recommend from 30 to 40 square feet of floor for each head of cattle and about 10 to 15 sq. ft. per hog.

Concrete feeding floors are generally made about 4 in. thick unless they are to be driven over with heavy vehicles in which case they are made 6 in. thick. The floor should be made in sections about 10 ft. square. If the area to be paved is poorly drained, it is best to place the concrete slab on a well-tamped fill of about 6 in. of fine stone, gravel or cinders. However, if the feed lot is on well-drained soil, no fill is needed.

Low Footing Cutoff

It is desirable to place a low footing cutoff wall in the ground about 1 1/2 ft. deep around the edge of a feeding floor. This prevents undermining of the floor.

Before concrete is placed the floor area should be carefully leveled or given the desired slope. Many floors are sloped about 1/4 in. in 1 ft. to drain readily. Any filling made in low spots should be wetted and tamped thoroughly to provide a firm base for the concrete slab. Pieces of 2x4s are commonly used for side forms when the floor is to be 4 in. thick; 2x6 in. pieces when the floor is to be 6 in. thick.

A 1:2 1/2:3 concrete mix is recommended. This means 1 part Portland cement, 2 1/2 parts sand and 3 parts gravel or crushed rock. Pieces of gravel or crushed rock should not be larger than 1 1/2 in. in size. The proper amount of water is 5 gal. per sack of cement if sand is in an average moist condition.

The full thickness of concrete is placed in one operation. The freshly laid concrete is leveled with the top of the guide forms by means of a strikeboard. A straight 2x4 about 10 or 12 ft. long makes a good strikeboard. New concrete is allowed to harden until it is quite stiff, then is finished with a wood float. The wood float creates an even, uniform, gritty nonskid surface. New concrete should be properly cured by covering with earth or straw as soon as it has hardened enough not to be marred and then kept moist for at least 5 days by frequent sprinkling.

Approximate amounts of materials required to build 100 sq. ft. of floor 4 in. thick are:
7 1/2 sacks of Portland cement,
3 1/2 cu. yd. sand,
1 cu. yd. gravel or crushed rock.
Mr. Romig lives 1 1/2 miles south east of Dresden on highway 50 and then back west 1/4 mile on the north side of the road. The meeting starts at 1:30.

Comes Here For Registered Rams

A large land owner and extensive livestock farmer, M. M. Rutherford, of Batesville, Ark., was in Pettis County Wednesday looking for registered rams. He purchased two Corriedale rams, one from Emmett Fairfax and one from R. M. Wadleigh, both of Sedalia.

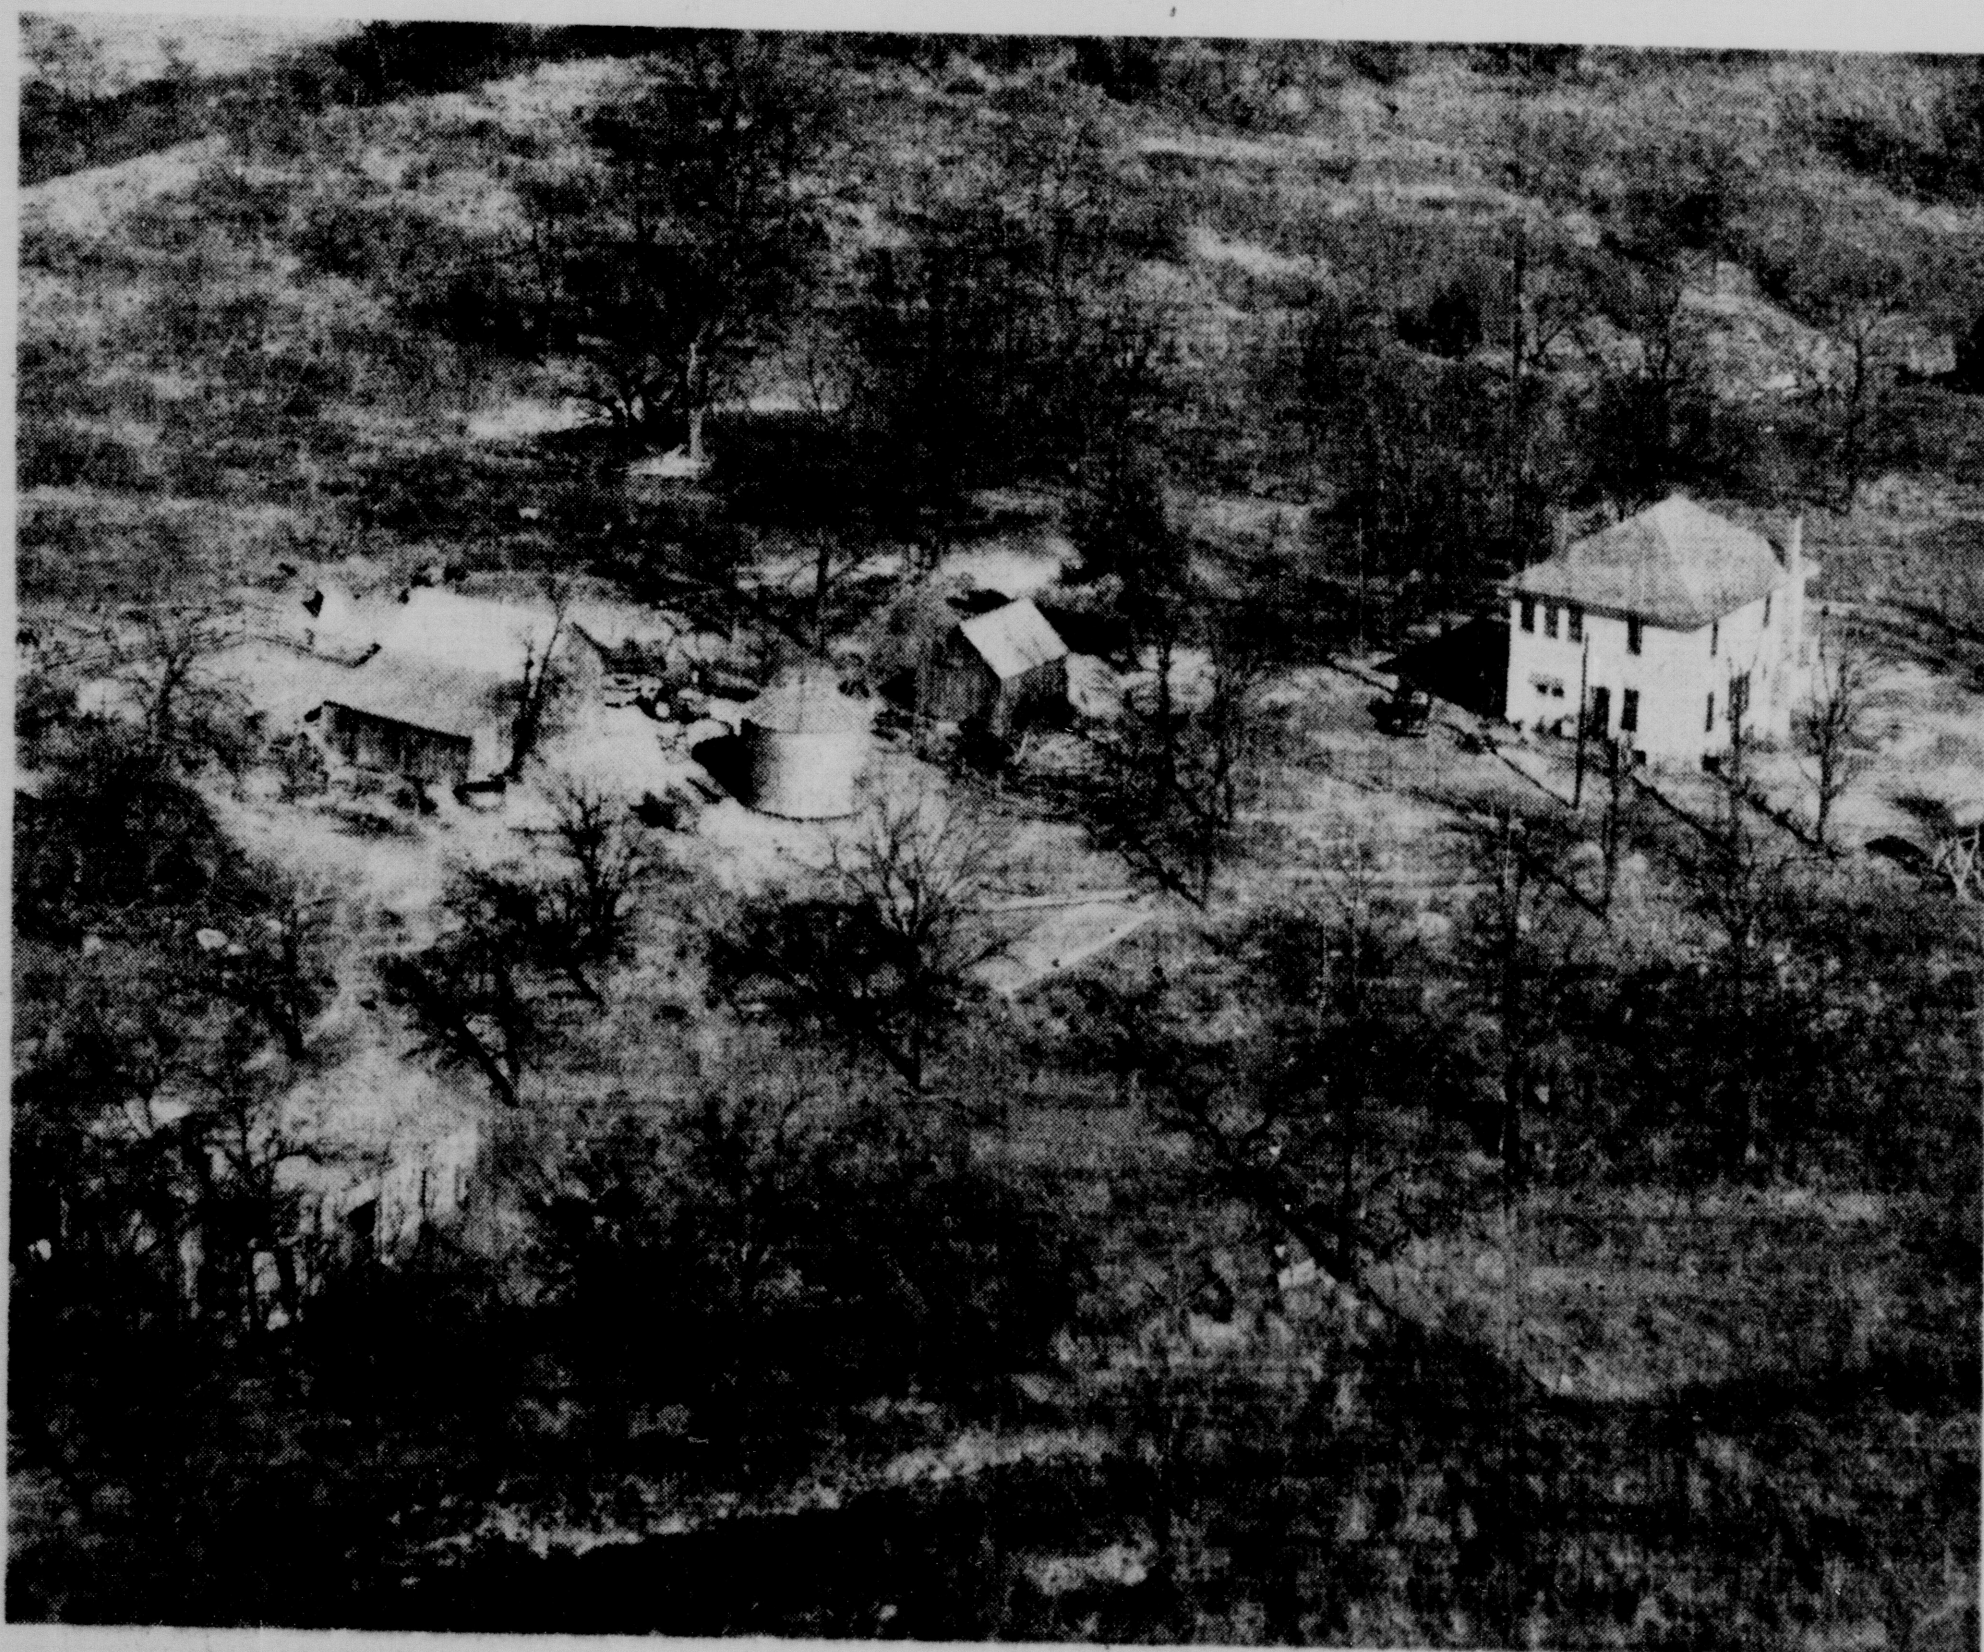

Sheep producers in Pettis county are fortunate in being able to bring good breeding stock at the annual Midwest Stock and Ram Show and Sale. This puts them in a favorable position to raise breeding stock for commercial herds, says Roy I. Coplen, County Extension Agent, who assisted Mr. Rutherford in locating these rams. For those who like sheep and follow good methods sheep are now and likely will be a very profitable enterprise. One of the essentials is the use of a registered, blocky, good hindquartered and well woolled ram.

Extension Clubs Council Met

The County Council of Extension clubs of Pettis county met in the basement of the First Christian church at 2:00 p. m. After the roll call was answered the minutes of the last meeting were read and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. R. C. Wissman. Mrs. Tom Perrin gave a report on the tour made during Home Demonstration week. It was voted to give the hostess of each home gone through a small gift. Achievement day committees were announced. Also nominating committee to select officers for the council.

Discussion was held on cook books to be sold. Mrs. Albert Moore introduced Miss Mary Ellen Leonard, home agent at large. Miss Watkins told about a meeting of the health council. Achievement day has been changed to Wednesday, October 31. Mrs. Paul Hyatt, state president will be the speaker. State library is bringing

Notes On Balanced Farming

Merle Vaughan
While everyone has been busy salvaging wheat and trying to cultivate corn I have had the opportunity to visit quite a few Association members farms. I would like to mention just a little of what has been going on there.

B-F-N
Sherman Pritchard of near Ionia is planning to terrace 40-50 acres as soon as the wheat and timothy is off the ground. Jack Fischer of Sedalia will do the work. Ray Shepherd of the same neighborhood will renovate and reseed 12 acres of permanent pasture this fall. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Elliott of Windsor have a fine lot of young turkeys. The summer water supply for them is guaranteed by the new pond which is now full of water.

B-F-N
E. A. Schnakenberg of Springfield and his son-in-law Melvin Diekmann are preparing to seed 5 acres of alfalfa this fall. The 1000 pounds of raw rock phosphate has been applied and plowed under and the other treatments will follow soon. The William P. McCune's also of Springfield are proud of the recent remodeling including the new bathroom and will soon start on the construction of a new poultry laying house. The Harold Browns who live near by have asked Home Agent, Miss Lillian Watkins to stop by some afternoon and discuss future remodeling plans with them.

William H. Wellers have a good stand of grass on the 2 terrace outlets built last winter.

B-F-N
A contractor, Jack Fischer, started building terraces last week on a 40 acre pasture on the D. P. Dyer farm northwest of Ionia which is operated by Wiskur Brothers. Raw rock phosphate at the rate of 100 lbs. per acre has been spread on a 20 acre pasture which is being plowed on the contour and will be further fertilized, limed and seeded to one of the recommended pasture mixtures.

A field of fescue, ladino clover and lespedeza seeded in the spring of 1950 was still providing abundant pasture last week. Another pasture seeded in the fall of 1950 will probably be plowed and reseeded this fall.

B-F-N
Wayne Timney of Independence, Missouri who recently purchased a 120 acres just north of the Dyer farm was cultivating a heavily fertilized field of corn for the first time. The wet weather held him out of the field and some of it was breaking with the first plowing.

Outlet construction on the E. W. Thompson - Jesse Dowdy farm south-west of Sedalia has been renewed by Ed Vaughn, Knob Noster contractor.

B-F-N
I accompanied Arnold Fischer, local contractor, recently to look at an outlet to be built on the "Bud" Sneed farm northeast of Sedalia. Bud reported his 0-200 oats were making close to 45 bushels per acre.

A stop was made the same afternoon to look at terrace and outlet work on the Job Harned farm nearby. While there the tenant, Gene Hume, reported a heavily fertilized 3 acre oat field yielding a bookmobile here on a regional basis for one year. Mrs. Albert Moore told about a meeting she attended of all county presidents at Clinton. It was brought out that Pettis county started Extension club work in 1912 with 150 members. Now there are 39 clubs with 850 members. Johnson county now has 49 clubs with 1,076 members, one of the largest in the state. The Farmer's Forum will be held in Columbia November 19-20. The meeting was followed by a tea with Mrs. Granville Thompson and Mrs. Lewis Hammond, Jr. in charge.

190 bushels of oats. The rest of the same field just across a small ditch and receiving only about 100 pounds of complete fertilizer per acre was making about 25 bushels.

B-F-N
George Knox of Beaman was able to harvest all of his oats which made about 30 bushels per acre. He used pick up guards with his combine. George also has some very good looking corn. As soon as his lespedeza hay is harvested he plans to have about 40 acres terraced. Jim Bahner, local contractor, who built his outlets last winter will do the work.

B-F-N
J. M. Burke, also of Beaman, had a terrace outlet built this spring and plans to have some terraces built by Mr. Bahner when he does the work for Knox.

B-F-N
D. M. Overstreet and Bill Zinn of Sedalia Route 2, have 35 acres of orchard grass, ladino and timothy seeded this spring. Friday evening, August 17. The speaker will be Professor Arnold Klemme who is Extension Soils Specialist at the University of Missouri. Mr. Klemme is intensely interested in Balanced Farming and will probably illustrate his remarks with colored slides taken over Missouri and in Europe which he visited last year.

B-F-N
Several folks around Houstonia are planning water management work or have done some recently. Archie Shireman, will build 2 outlets and Jim Blackburn one. C. A. Staples built a large one this spring while Dr. C. L. Parkhurst finished the terraces on 40 acres this spring and started immediately on an adjoining field.

B-F-N
The sign-up for 1952 has started with the first 2 members being Frank Sellars of Sedalia route 5 and W. P. Root of the Sedalia Implement Co. The Sellars farm is located at the Southeast corner of Sedalia while the Root farm is near the Johnson county line northwest of LaMonte. Mr. Root is especially interested in erosion control and pasture improvement while Mr. Sellars is working on a clean ground system for his hogs and a pond that will supply water and save him hauling it.

Quality Eggs Require Proper Handling

Eggs are very perishable hence, careful and proper handling is necessary to keep up the interior quality. The spread between quality and unclassified egg prices and the provision in Missouri's new egg law concerning the buying of eggs on a loss-of basis makes egg summertime care a very important factor in having marketable eggs and of such quality that will command top price, says Ted Joule of the Missouri College of Agriculture.

Any hot-dry place is a poor place to keep eggs. Damage from heat can be avoided by gathering eggs 2 or 3 times a day in wire baskets, not metal buckets, keeping in cool place. Marketing eggs twice a week helps. Experimental work shows that it will take 23 days for an egg to go from AA (that's the best) to C quality when held at 60.8 degrees but only three days when held at 98.5 degrees. Lack of moisture through evaporation can be overcome by having plenty of water in the egg storage room. Many producers use wet sand. Others keep the floor wet.

Records show that fertile eggs held at 99 degrees will, within three days, have embryo development to the point of a beating heart and within seven days the entire body of the baby chick will be formed. Roosters should not be kept in any flock except those that are producing hatching eggs. Good summer time care means more saleable eggs and a better egg for the consumer.

Balanced Farm Picnic on Friday

A picnic for folks interested in Balanced Farming is being held at Liberty park at 7:30 Friday evening, August 17. The speaker will be Professor Arnold Klemme who is Extension Soils Specialist at the University of Missouri. Mr. Klemme is intensely interested in Balanced Farming and will probably illustrate his remarks with colored slides taken over Missouri and in Europe which he visited last year.

Mr. Klemme is a well known speaker and folks who cannot get in time for the picnic are welcome to come later for his talk which will be at the band shell in the park.

Time to Plan Fall Gardens

Due to an unfavorable spring and early summer many have poor gardens. Tomato crop is an example of this, however, some who have sprayed consistently have good tomato plants starting to bear.

It's time, says the County Extension Office, to plan for a fall garden. Raising a fall garden will help secure a bigger and better supply of good fresh or canned food.

Green beans, sweet corn, chives, cabbage, fall crop of cabbage, beets, carrots and turnips all stand a good chance to ripen before frost.

Fall gardens will enable one to have fresh vegetables right up to frost. Fresh vegetables out of the garden provide better vegetables and are cheaper.

Late in the fall insects aren't as bad as earlier.

Lightning Kills Cows in Huddle
CENTRALIA, Ill. — (P) — As farmer Murriel Uchtman looked on helplessly, lightning wiped out his seven milk cows with a single bolt. Uchtman, out on his farm near Steeleville, Ill., reported: The cows huddled, with one poking its head through a steel fence,

Successful 4-H Camp Held

Eighty-Six Were at One For Three Days Recently

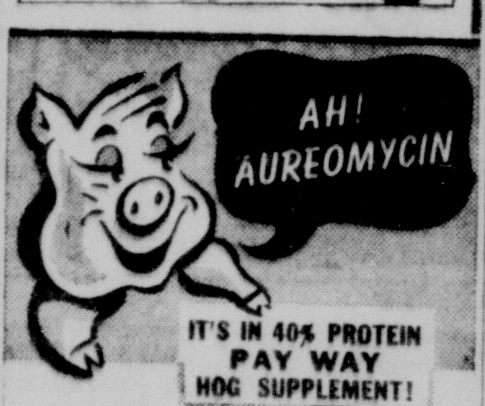

86 4-H Campers from Pettis and Benton Counties returned tired but happy from their 3 day stay at Camp Bob White on July 27th. The camp is an annual event which is operated on a non-profit basis to offer 4-Hers the opportunity to broaden their experiences and acquaintances as well as provide recreation.

The election of officers featured the first night's program. Clinton Raid of the Prairie Ridge 4-H Club was elected to the office of president of the 1951 Club Camp. Other officers were John Robert Owens of Benton County, vice-president; Mary Jo Welliver of Flat Creek as secretary; Barbara Ann Reid of Prairie Ridge 4-H as song leader; and Ricky Fajen of Benton County as bell ringer. The Camp Council members were Jeanie Dirck of La Monte 4-H and Ella Christine Silsby of Quisenberry 4-H represented Villages I and II respectively. Rocky Martin of Benton County and Jackie Birdsong of Beaman Arator 4-H Club represented Villages III and IV.

The campers were busy throughout the day with their handicraft, nature study, swimming and recreation periods. Jack Reed, conservation agent, conducted bird walks, tours of feeding stations and cover plots and fire-arm safety lessons. In the handicraft periods each camper made a hanging flower vase from raffia and odd-shaped jars or vases. The swimming period was particularly popular.

Autos Damaged In Collisions

Considerable property damage resulted to four automobiles in two different wrecks Sunday afternoon. Injuries consisted of nothing more-or-less than slight bruises.

The first accident occurred about 15 miles north of Sedalia on Highway 65.

Approximately $500 damages resulted to the 1949 Cadillac sedan, and about $200 to a 1941 Dodge sedan. The Cadillac was driven by Dr. Homer Vance, Jr., Marshall, who was headed south on Highway 65 and the Dodge by John W. Smith, 500 North Washington, Sedalia, who was driving north.

According to the State Patrol report, Dr. Vance was behind a milk truck and as he started to pull out to see if a car was coming, the Dodge passed and they sideswiped.

Damages resulted to two cars and the Flat Creek bridge about 2:00 p. m. in an accident on the bridge.

William Lorin Friedley, Stover driving a 1951 Mercury convertible, was headed south on Highway 65 as was Payton Parks, Negro, of Lincoln, in his 1938 Plymouth coupe.

State Trooper Pete Stohr stated that in accordance with a report given him, Friedley started to pass Parks, and Parks car pulled to the left forcing the Mercury to sideswipe into the bridge and into the coupe. Several hundred dollars resulted to both vehicles.

Parks was arrested and charged with careless driving. He appeared before Magistrate W. W. Blain in court, this morning, and pleaded not guilty. After a hearing Parks was fined $25.00 and costs.

Traffic Cases In Police Court

Police court was a busy place, this morning, with various traffic violations.

William Robert Hogan, 701 East 12th, was fined $75.00 on a charge of intoxicated driving. He was arrested by State Trooper Pete Stohr in the 1700 block on west 16th.

Renee Wayans, 221 East Cooper, a colored woman, was fined $75.00 for intoxicated driving and $10.00 for not having good brakes on the car she was driving. She pleaded not guilty to the intoxicated driving charge after which Judge Trotter found her guilty following a hearing.

She was given a stay on the fine for bad brakes, providing they were repaired.

W. T. Darrah, 521 West Fourth, charged with running a red traffic light at Broadway and Grand, forfeited his $5.00 bond when he failed to appear before Judge Trotter.

Julian Upton, Windsor, route 3, forfeited a $10.00 cash bond on a speeding charge. He failed to appear in court before Judge Trotter. Robert C. Vogler, 403 East 16th, pleaded guilty to careless driving on south Highway 65 and was fined $25.00. He was arrested by State Troopers Stohr and Means.

Seventeen overtime parking violators who failed to appear before Judge Trotter, forfeited their cash bonds of $1.00 each.

Brought to Hospital Here

The annual Democrat-Capital picnic was held at Knob Noster State park at which employees and their families were guests of the company.

A fried chicken dinner was served to more than one hundred persons at about 1 o'clock in the afternoon.
